

"The books transported her into new worlds and introduced her to amazing people who lived exciting lives. She went on olden-day sailing ships with Joseph Conrad. She went to Africa with Ernest Hemingway and to India with Rudyard Kipling. She travelled all over the world while sitting in her little room in an English village." Roald Dahl, Matilda

READ, READ AND READ SOME MORE!

You might be limited to your own home at the moment, but by reading you can open up a whole new world.

Nothing beats getting lost in a good book!

Below are some links to websites offering free audio books and books to download to a kindle or tablet.

Keep an eye out for our weekly recommendations for each year group.

If you read a great book or listened to an audio book and would like to write a review, please email Mrs Scott and we will share with your peers.
