

Help for Students

Applications remain open throughout the summer but you really should be applying now. If you require information about specific courses, this information will be accessible via your chosen establishment's website or you can call them directly. If you are still unsure about the route that you wish to take, you can email Mrs McManus for advice on lou.mcmanus@shottonhallacademy.co.uk or information is readily available on POD and Grofar. If you are wanting to research career routes, Grofar is a great place to start but you can also find information by searching online. Again, if you need help, speak to Mrs McManus.

If you have applied but have not heard back, don't be afraid to contact your chosen provider. Contact details are below.

Apply now/ your application

New College Durham are continuing to take applications for the 21/22 academic year. Apply now to secure your place by completing an online application at www.newcollegedurham.ac.uk If you are unsure about which programme you would like to study you can:

- book a telephone appointment with our Advice, Support and Careers team by emailing them asc@newdur.ac.uk or contacting them on ASC (Advice Support Careers) (0191) 375 4400

If you have already applied, they will invite you for a telephone interview.

If you have already accepted a place on a course, this still stands and they will be enrolling you on your chosen programme over the summer.

If you have changed your mind about the course you are interested in, this is no problem, please just contact our admissions team admissions@newdur.ac.uk
